

on Education

“The Lord would use the church school as an aid to the parents in educating and preparing their children for this time before us. Then let the church take hold of the school work in earnest and make it what the Lord desires it to be.” (CT 167)

“The necessity of establishing Christian schools is urged upon me very strongly. In the schools of to-day many things are taught that are a hindrance rather than a blessing. Schools are needed where the word of God is made the basis of education.” (FE 541)

“The teachers . . . can educate and do a work of larger importance than even the minister in preaching the Word. They can prepare the soil that the truth may have effect upon human hearts.” (PM 238)

“While we should put forth earnest efforts for the masses of the people around us, and push the work into foreign fields, no amount of labor in this line can excuse us for neglecting the education of our children and youth.” (CT 165)

“In the highest sense the work of education and the work of redemption are one, for in education, as in redemption, ‘other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ.’” (Ed 30)

“The church is asleep and does not realize the magnitude of this matter of educating the children and youth. . . . All our youth should be permitted to have the blessings and privileges of an education at our schools . . .” (CG 332)

“There is no work more important than the education of our youth.” (CT 46)
