

SDACC Graduate Degree Funding Request

Description:

Andrews University (AU): For the list of programs covered by the Andrews University and the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Canada Agreement, see page 2.

Accredited University other than AU: Limited funding is available for non-AU degrees that are not being offered by Andrews University under the agreement with the SDACC as listed above. Applications will be considered on an individual basis based on the eligibility requirements and conditions described below.

Eligibility:

Educational personnel are eligible to apply for SDACC funding for master's degrees if:

- They are full-time teachers or principals within the SDACC school system. Employees on temporary contracts are not eligible.
- This is their first master's degree, or they do not hold a Principal's certificate.
- They hold a valid Basic or Standard (or Professional for Principal's certificate) denominational teaching certificate.
- They are recommended by their Conference superintendent or boarding academy president.

Conditions:

While we would like to assist all principals or teachers, who wish to pursue a graduate degree or principal's certificate, funds are limited for both the Andrews programs and the non-AU programs. We will do our best to support as many teachers as possible in their pursuit of graduate degree programs based on the following conditions:

- While eligible teachers may apply to take AU courses for recertification purposes only, priority will be given to those teachers planning to complete graduate degrees.
- Funding applies to tuition only; teachers are responsible for registration fee, graduation fee (if applicable), and all textbooks, materials, and other fees.
- Funding for degree programs in accredited universities other than Andrews University will be considered only if a similar degree is not offered by Andrews University.
- The SDACC Education Council Executive will make the final approval decisions from all applications received. Criteria that will be considered include: available funding, conference and local school needs, years of service, demonstration of successful teaching and/or administration, and potential for advanced study.
- The Teacher acknowledges and agrees that it is a condition of Funding that he/she complete one full school year of employment service within the SDACC Education System per year of Funding received. Assistance given during the summer or school year for part-time study on a Master's degree shall be amortized by one year of service following the study. Upon receipt of the Master's degree, the teacher will be obligated to complete one full school year of employment service within the SDACC Education System. If the Teacher does not provide the employment service to the Employer as required by paragraph 9 in MOA for any reason, the Teacher will reimburse the SDACC for whatever graduate expense has not been amortized by previous service.

Please note: This agreement does not guarantee continued employment, and individuals released by the conference will not be required to repay unamortized funding received.
